PLUNGE INTO THE FILMMAKERS' WORLD

WIDESCREEN VIEWING PRESENTATION

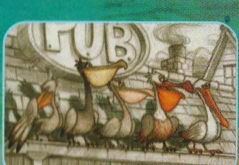
Filmmakers' Visual Commentary Including Deleted Scenes And Recording Sessions

Take a remarkable trip through the evolution of Finding Nemo as Pixar's team of Writer/Director Andrew Stanton, Co-Director Lee Unkrich and Co-Writer Bob Peterson provide revealing commentary on the film's challenges and unexpected surprises. As the film progresses, they illustrate their discussion with visual clips – from deleted scenes and recording sessions with the actors, to revealing secrets of the amazing technology that was invented to create Finding Nemo. Select the Visual Commentary and watch Finding Nemo in a whole new way.

Making Nemo: A Special Documentary

Pixar's Executive Producer John Lasseter, Writer/Director Andrew Stanton and the Pixar team lead you through the process of perfecting Finding Nemo. A documentary filmmaker worked alongside the crew to record this remarkable endeavor. So go inside the studio and meet the people who brought Finding Nemo to life. Learn about the challenges they faced designing and animating characters without arms or legs, making a believable underwater experience, and struggling to create a world as vast as the ocean itself. With a little mariachi music, an "Ugly Contest" and a lot of determination, see how the team brought Finding Nemo to the big screen.

Review The Art Of Nemo, Narrated By The Artists Themselves



Pixar's Production Designer Ralph Eggleston, Character Art Director Ricky Nierva and Shading Art Director Robin Cooper guide you through a stunning collection of pre-production art that inspired Finding Nemo's final computer-generated imagery.

Virtual Aquariums

Let the world of Finding Nemo come to life as you turn your TV into your own aquarium of beautiful, animated environments from the movie.

When the virtual aquarium is displayed, hit any arrow key or "enter" to exit.

Exploring The Reef With Jean-Michel Cousteau

World-renowned undersea explorer Jean-Michel Cousteau takes you on a dive into Australia's Great Barrier Reef, the real-life setting for Finding Nemo. All he wants to do is finish his documentary, but things get complicated by the surprise appearance of Dory, Marlin and Nemo. Oops. Now it's not a surprise. Sorry. Well, anyway, to learn more about the reef from Jean-Michel Cousteau, visit oceanfutures.org

Learning Fun With Mr. Ray's Encyclopedia

Nemo's very own teacher guides you through an encyclopedia that comes to life! Learn from Mr. Ray as he enthusiastically tells you all about the real fish that inspired the characters of Finding Nemo.

Discover The Classic Pixar Animation Studios Short Film Knick Knack

Imagine being a snowman trapped in a snowglobe. Now imagine you're surrounded by knick knacks from "Sunny Miami," "Sunny Palm Springs" and even "Sunny Death Valley." You'd want out, but how to do it? Watch this hilarious story of frustration that the Pixar team created with early CGI technology in 1989. As a bonus feature, learn about the early days of computer animation with fascinating commentary from Director John Lasseter and Technical Director Eben Ostby.

Play "Fisharades"

Crush hosts a game of underwater charades with your favorite school of fish. As they form shapes, it's your chance to guess what they are before they finish. You can play alone, or with another player!

Pixar Animation Studios Tour

Made especially for "Future Animators," this behind-the-scenes tour, hosted by Alexander Gould (the voice of Nemo), journeys from the story department to final film review and everywhere in between!

Virtual Aquariums

Wish you had a fish tank like the dentist? Well, turn your TV into an aquarium populated by Gill, Bloat, Peach, Nemo and the whole tank gang.
